

The Quincy Sun

Thursday, October 22, 2009

BANK OF AMERICA presented Quincy's Cradles to Crayons with a $50,000 grant at Sunday's New England Patriots game to help them meet their goal this winter of providing winter packs for 12,000 children in need, including children from Project Hope, a multi-service agency in Dorchester and Roxbury whose mission is to partner with families as they move up and out of poverty. Pictured here (back row from left to right): Project Hope Ambassador Toddy A., Bank of America President Bob Gallery, Lynn Margherio, CEO and founder of Quincy's Cradles to Crayons and Robert Kraft, Chairman and CEO of the NE Patriots. Front row: Wazim, Sasha, Nina and Mark.

Picture courtesy Regan Communications